THE POLARIS PROJECT INFO ON "RESIDENTIAL BROTHELS"

- Standard price for 15 minutes of sex at a Residential Brothel: $30 $120 PER HOUR... OKAY NOT A BAD RATE
- Standard day for a woman or child at a Residential Brothel: 10am – 10pm; 12 hours; 7 days a week
WE BASED OUR TABLES ON THE PREVIOUS PAGE ON A MERE 100 TO 300 DAYS PER YEAR WHICH IS ABOUT 2.5 DAYS TO 5.75 DAYS PER WEEK- STILL NOT ENOUGH MEN IN THE US TO PROVIDE THEM WITH A STEADY 7 DAY PER WEEK JOB...
- Estimated number of men a woman or child must have sex with daily: 25 – 48 men daily
WOA... THAT'S ROUGH... HOW IS THAT EVEN POSSIBLE?

We don't know if the Polaris Project is aware of our work (we hope they are), but they have changed their website and it no longer includes this information.

However, you can still visit the old page which is cached by waybackmachine here

Where do the men line up? Wouldn't SOMEONE notice if there are 25 to 48 men lining up outside a hotel, motel, apartment, house etc., if there was just ONE 'sex slave' at the brothel? And if the brothel had two or more 'women and children' being held captive there to service all those men, where would the men all park? Sure, they could arrive a few at a time, but with the limited time each of them will have with the "child sex trafficking victim" they will need to get in line and wait their turn, unless the pimp has a good secretary who made all the appointments, and all the 'johns' arrived on time for their 'session.'

And each "child/ adult sex trafficking victim" who is "sold" to 25 to 48 "johns" per day in a 12 hour shift would have about 15 minutes worth of sex with each "john," and the "johns" would have to be lined up outside the door with their pants almost off, their dicks out, hard and ready to insert. Oh- and the "john" would have to pay the pimp either before or after the 15 minute quickie and be out the door for the next set of "johns" to get inside and wait their turn... (The child or adult sex trafficking victim would have little or no time during their shift to eat, clean up or pee, because 'time is money' and if they stop to take a break for any reason, the assembly line service would come to a complete stop...)

Is it possible that some sex workers are able to cram that many 'johns' in one 12 hour shift? Yes, it might be. Would that be possible 7 days per week, 365 days per year during the alleged "4 to 7" year lifespan of a prostitute? Not likely. Nor would there be very many of these cases- because there are simply NOT ENOUGH MEN IN THE ENTIRE UNITED STATES to provide even a fraction of the alleged number of victims with work. The Polaris Project (now "Hands Across the World") estimated there to be "100,000 to 300,000 children trafficked into prostitution every year" joining the other hundreds of thousands of child and adult prostitutes who are allegedly competing for the hundreds of millions of men who do not exist (there are only 107,965,933 men between the ages of 20 and 79 who MIGHT have the resources to hire them...). If making dubious claims about the 'number of victims' and the number of 'johns' they must have sex with daily isn't fraud, what is?
