In many states, "pimping" is defined as financially benefitting in any way from the 'sexual labor' of a prostitute. Some people suggest that we impose the death penalty on 'pimps'; many states are passing strong anti- 'human trafficking' laws with long mandatory sentences- some include life sentences...

We thought you should know who the police and the government consider 'pimps' and what happens to those who actually do the kind of 'pimping' most people think of when they hear about a 'pimp'....

PIMPS ABOVE

People who can be charged with pimping but who are NOT 'pimps':

The government says that ANYONE to whom I give ANY of my earnings as a prostitute is a PIMP... and wants to charge them with 'human trafficking' and punish them with decades in prison and a lifetime of sex offender registry... BUT WHY? It is MY money- and if the IRS wants ITS cut, why can't I give MY money to anyone I want? Why can't I call the cops IF someone takes my money against my will?

My real mother, brothers and sisters and me with my husband-

My co-workers

My friends

My children (if I had any)

My grocer, my doctor, my internet service provider people whom I love and could be punished if I bought them gifts or helped them out financially... with money earned from sex work...

yet the government can fine me and take my earnings... seize my assets- "for my own good..." If I were still working as a prostitute...

For many sex workers, a 'pimp' is simply an employer who has a list of safe clients, or a driver, or someone who answers the phones and schedules appointments and may negotiate a fee from the client before the date takes place. For people in other professions- including athletes, actors, writers etc.- people who provided those services would be called "agents," "managers," or "entertainment attorneys" and it is appropriate for them to be paid for the services they provide. Why can't sex workers pay for the services of people who do those things for us? If we were not outlaws, we could file a criminal complaint if we got ripped off by anyone!
