

DAILY NEWS

NEW YORK

Ex-cop rapist blasted by teen victim's dad

'If I found your daughter on a park bench, I would have called for help, not taken advantage of her,' the devastated Brooklyn dad screamed at defendant Darrin Nemelc, 44.

BY BARBARA ROSS AND SHAYNA JACOBS / NEW YORK DAILY NEWS

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 2013, 2:29 AM

JOE MARINO/NEW YORK DAILY NEWS

Darrin Nemelc, appears at his sentencing, March 22 2013, for raping a 14yr-old runaway teen in his apartment New Years Day 2011. He was given 7 years.

The furious dad of a troubled teen tore into her convicted rapist at his sentencing Friday, where the sick ex-cop got seven years for luring the 14-year-old runaway into a Manhattan apartment for sex.

"If I found your daughter on a park bench, I would have called for help, not taken advantage of her," the devastated Brooklyn dad screamed at defendant Darrin Nemelc, 44.

He said his daughter had a 3.6 GPA when Nemelc attacked her on New Year's Day 2011. Since then, he said, the girl has been in three residential facilities, has been admitted to hospitals numerous times and failed 10th grade.